ANTI-CATHOLIC DISCRIMINATION AT THE BORDER?

by

Dennis J. Wall

The treatment of immigrants at the border is not completely understood but it is well-known to be bad. Many if not most of the immigrants are Catholic. Are they being discriminated against because they are Catholic?

Centuries ago this country gave shelter in some places to the “Know Nothing Party.” The Know Nothings hated immigrants and minorities, and just about anybody that was not white. They made some exceptions to their hatred of people who were not white, though.

They reserved a lot of their hatred in particular for Catholics.

It deserves asking again, then: Are the actions of the occupiers of the current federal government unjustly discriminating against immigrants because they are scared of Catholics?

The Know Nothings ride again. On the same hatreds.
